Round 8

After 8 rounds Zappa has managed to obtain a comfortable leading position of 2 points ahead of World Champion Junior and former World Champion Shredder. Still there are three rounds to go and in these rounds Zappa meets Shredder. The game Zappa vs. IsiChess was a real fight in which IsiChess somewhere lost a pawn. That was detrimental since Zappa was able to take optimal advantage from this material plus. Junior saw its distance to the leader increase by half a point by its draw against Deep Sjeng. It was a tough game in which both sides kept the balance continuously. For Deep Sjeng this draw counts as a good performance after its slow start. Shredder was unable to follow Zappa too by drawing against The Baron. Although Shredder had the opportunity to gain a Pawn and to arrive in a rook-endgame with a Pawn up it could not win this endgame, notwithstanding its superb technique. Crafty continued its good performance in this tournament by winning against Jonny. The game Futé-Diep was in some sense identical to the contest between Diep and Shredder. In both games White was a Pawn up in a Queen-Rook ending. In the previous contest Diep overplayed its position and lost against Shredder. Now it was Futé's turn to undergo this fatal happening. Boussin was certainly not happy. For more than an hour he had believed to win his first game in the tournament. After his advantage had disappeared he was sure – as he thought – that he would score another half a point. However the position was complex and in the myriad of possibilities his program lost the way to draw. In the end Diep was able to win the game with elementary means.

The open source program Fruit showed that it was too strong for The Crazy Bishop. The winning strategy took some time but the result was unavoidable for Black. After this round the score at the top is as follows.

1. Zappa 7.5, 2-6. Crafty, Deep Sjeng, Fruit, Junior, and Shredder 5.5.
